

ThriveOn Launches New Media Hub Providing Access to the Truth During a Time of Propaganda, Censorship, and Near-Universal Deceit

THRIVE II: This Is What It Takes creators, Foster Gamble and Kimberly Carter Gamble, announced the launch of their media hub, ThriveOn.com.

LOS ANGELES (PRWEB) November 04, 2020 -- Today THRIVE II: This Is What It Takes creators, Foster Gamble and Kimberly Carter Gamble, announced the launch of their media hub, ThriveOn.com. This deep digest offers empowering information and tools for those who want a comprehensive picture from which to critically assess what is going on and what we can do about it. The media is categorized by the unified science, health, consciousness, energy, and freedom.

“Whether it’s connecting the dots between seemingly disparate subjects or offering products and services that align with holistic principles, ThriveOn vets and curates the best we have found,” said President, Gamble.

ThriveOn unpacks scientific advancements in the emerging unified field theory that Einstein was seeking, and from which new energy, health, and consciousness technologies emerge. ThriveOn also houses content tied to ethical philosophy that focuses on how to solve humanity's problems without relying on one team coercing others. ThriveOn provides trans-political analysis based on principles instead of politics.

When asked what is on the horizon for ThriveOn.com, Gamble said, “ThriveOn will soon be offering a gifting function for sharing Thrive II: This Is What It Takes, a shop of products and services that embody the principles of restoring wholeness to natural systems, and a free web-based app called the Solutions Hub that provides the infrastructure for people to engage in effective collaboration by issues or region, in 40 different languages.

ThriveOn, also exclusively hosts Thrive II: This Is What It Takes, a landmark sequel to the film: Thrive: What on Earth Will it Take? which garnered over 90 million documented views and was translated into 27 languages.

About ThriveOn:

ThriveOn aims to educate, empower, and ignite our human potential to restore the wholeness of natural systems, aligning with the unified field and with each other to create a thriving world.
